Your Wellness Partner

Jill Cerutti

Founder, TheGorgeous Soul

After more than 30 years in hospitality leadership, I came to understand that some of the most meaningful moments happen not during the meeting itself, but in the space between the agenda, the moments where people connect, reflect, recharge, and build stronger relationships.

Throughout my career leading sales teams, developing hotels, and creating guest experiences, I witnessed firsthand the pace and pressure placed on leaders, teams, and organizations. My personal journey into mindfulness, wellness, and self-discovery revealed the powerful impact that intentional moments of pause can have on creativity, connection, well-being, and performance.

Combining my passion for hospitality and wellness, I founded The Gorgeous Soul and created The Space Between Meetings, a collection of thoughtfully curated wellness experiences designed to bring balance, connection, and restoration into meetings, retreats, and gatherings.

Today, I partner with organizations, resorts, and event planners to create meaningful experiences that inspire connection, encourage presence, and help people leave feeling more energized, engaged, and connected than when they arrived.

My hope is that every experience creates space for people to slow down, reconnect with themselves and one another, and discover that sometimes the most impactful moments happen between the meetings.
